Atkinson, Haskins, Nellis, Brittingham, Gladd & Carwile is a law firm built on success in the courtroom. The firm's willingness to take even the most difficult cases to trial has earned it the respect of its clients and opponents alike.

ZEALOUS ADVOCACY Established in 1961, Atkinson Haskins is recognized for its expertise as one of Oklahoma's premier litigation firms. The firm has built its practice and its reputation on zealous advocacy, client service and a commitment to excellence. The firm's lawyers are dedicated to protecting and defending their clients, offering each client individualized attention and diligent representation in an efficient and ethical manner.

EXTENSIVE EXPERTISE Atkinson Haskins performs a wide range of plaintiff and defense work. Its practice focuses on insurance defense, corporate defense and the defense of those in professional services. Within these areas, the firm specializes in medical and legal malpractice, insurance, civil rights, general negligence and manufacturers' products liability issues. The firm also offers expertise in many other litigation matters, including general civil actions, commercial litigation, creditors' rights, employment, aviation, workers' compensation and securities law.

KNOWLEDGE AND EXPERIENCE The firm offers a unique resource of skills and services to its clients. For example, to maximize its efficiency, Atkinson Haskins has separate litigation, appellate and research departments, providing a depth of expertise not found in other firms. The firm's successful team of lawyers is made up of talented individuals with outstanding academic credentials and employment histories, including a number of lawyers who have worked in other professions. This allows the firm to bring an exceptional breadth of experience and knowledge to every case, from discovery to jury verdict, from mass torts to catastrophic personal injury cases to insurance and business disputes.

SUPER LAWYERS Atkinson Haskins enjoys a solid reputation for excellence in the courtroom and has earned the respect of judges and lawyers alike. The firm's lawyers understand the heavy responsibility of representing a client in a high-stakes jury trial. They know that preparation and commitment to the client's cause are essential to success, and that juries are persuaded by clear, confident presentations of the facts. Atkinson Haskins believes cases that must be settled should only be negotiated from a position of strength, and the firm's experience is a great asset for clients who need a real understanding of risk. Now six of the firm's top-notch trial lawyers have been named as Oklahoma Super Lawyers: Michael P. Atkinson, Walter D. Haskins, III, Gregory D. Nellis, John S. Gladd, John J. Carwile and William A. Fiasco. These lawyers go to trial — because that's what this firm does.
